A photograph of Heritage Plaza in Clifton, Texas. In the foreground, a large, light-colored stone sign with the words "HERITAGE PLAZA" in raised, gold-colored letters sits on a bed of green shrubs. Behind the sign, a circular area of green grass is surrounded by several stone benches. In the center of this area is a bronze statue of a cowboy on a horse, standing on a pile of hay. To the right, a tall flagpole holds the American flag. The background is filled with lush green trees under a clear blue sky. A gravel path leads from the sign towards the center of the plaza.

A large, green-painted industrial water wheel sculpture stands in a town square. The wheel has orange spokes and is mounted on a green metal frame. In the background, there are several buildings, including one with a sign that reads "NOW & T... ANTIQUE MA...". A chain-link fence runs across the foreground, and a road is visible at the bottom. The sky is overcast.
