Eligibility for HISTORIC TEXAS LANDS recognition

Landowners must have completed at least one of the following actions:

1. Transferred ownership (via donation or sale) of an archeological site to the THC, other state agency, or non-profit land trust, for the purpose of permanent preservation of the site;
2. Sold or donated a permanent conservation easement (i.e. not a term easement) to the THC, other state agency, or a non-profit land trust. This easement must provide for permanent conservation of one or more significant archeological sites;
3. Designated one or more State Archeological Landmarks by completing the following three steps:
  - Nomination of the site
  - Designation of the site by the THC
  - Filing with the appropriate county clerk's office

4. Allowed substantial and significant archeological research on their property.
- “Substantial and significant archeological research” means survey, testing, or major excavation.
  - The research must contribute significantly to our knowledge of Texas archeology, or directly lead to permanent preservation of one or more significant sites.
  - *The results of that research must be published
- OR
- ALL materials, including all artifacts, notes, records, etc., from the research must be curated at an approved state repository.*
