

Which Excellence Program is Right for My Organization?

As of 3/2019	Pledge of Excellence	StEPs	Museum Assessment Program (MAP)	Collections Assessment for Preservation Program (CAP)	Core Documents Verification	Accreditation
Program Purpose	Show your commitment to ethics, national standards and best practices.	Starting point for small- and mid-sized history organizations that are not ready for other programs. Self-paced, self-study.	Consultative program helps museums to assess their strengths and weaknesses, meet museum standards, and build capacity by planning for the future.	Provides report from a conservator and building consultant that serves as a tool for long-range planning and fund-raising for conservation.	Receive recognition validating your museum's mission and core policies meet national standards for professional museums.	Provides recognition for meeting national museum standards and ethics, and commitment to continued institutional improvement.
How do I participate?	Send an email to pledge@aam-us.org or log in to the AAM website and check a box.	Sign up anytime.	There are one or two applications deadlines each year. Check the AAM website for specifics.	See http://www.conservation-us.org/CAP for deadlines.	Apply anytime.	Submit application anytime; reviewed Feb., June, Oct. 1 st .
How does this program relate to the others?	Pledge to follow National Standards & Best Practices for Museums that are used in all the excellence programs.	Uses the same standards (National Standards & Best Practices for Museums). A good precursor to, or in conjunction with MAP/CAP.	Uses the same standards (National Standards & Best Practices for Museums). A good tool to prepare for re/accreditation.	Uses the same standards (National Standards & Best Practices for Museums). Museums can use CAP to prepare for re/accreditation.	A required step before Accreditation. An opportunity to receive recognition for the plans you've created in StEPs, MAP or CAP.	Uses the same standards (National Standards & Best Practices for Museums)
What does this program cost?	It's free.	$175 one-time payment + non-members purchase an institutional membership. Must maintain institutional membership to receive certificates.	Museums are charged a modest fee in relation to their budget. Fees range from approx. $300-$1500. However, over $4000 worth of services are included.	Participants should budget $400 - $1,500 to cover potential additional costs. A budget-based allocation averaging $7,400 is provided.	Between $150-$500 depending on AAM membership status. (Membership not required)	Review Fee due when Self-Study is submitted: $2500-$6000 (based member status) + Site Visit costs (est'd ~ $2000). (Membership not required)
How much time does it take?	A few minutes.	Self-paced so time varies.	Completed within one year.	Completed within one year.	A few months.	12-18 months. Must undergo reaccreditation every 10 years.
How is this program structured?	Discuss the pledge with staff and board and then take it.	Six separate sections can be undertaken in any order.	Five possible assessments offer a comprehensive self-study, peer site visit, report & implementation.	Two-day site visit followed by assessor's report.	A review of the required elements in the five core documents.	One comprehensive study of the entire institution via a Self-Study, a site visit, and review by the Accreditation Commission.
Why should my institution use this program?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • It's an easy step to commit to museum standards. • A precursor for participating in other standards assessment and recognition programs 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Education and awareness of standards for paid and unpaid staff, governing authority and community • Understand strengths and weaknesses • Use as a tool for daily management and planning • Build credibility and support 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Understand strengths and weaknesses • Get recommendations for improvement • Learn about standards and best practices • Use report as a tool to guide strategic planning and fundraising 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Understand conservation strengths and weaknesses • Get recommendations for improvement • Learn about conservation standards and best practices • Use report to guide conservation planning and fundraising 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Distinguishes the museum as a professional member of the field and an educational entity • Acts as an accountability tool for keeping policies up to date 	Results in: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Sustainability and a Stronger Institution • Credibility and Accountability • A Clearer Sense of Mission • National Recognition
What is the program outcome?	A public commitment to standards and best practices.	Self-completed workbook helps with planning; certificates for meeting performance indicators.	Workbook; report and guidance from peer reviewer to help museums prioritize needs and improve operation; action plan to implement recommendations.	Report from assessors that helps museums prioritize conservation needs.	National recognition.	Award or denial of Accredited Museum status.
Where can I obtain more information?	American Alliance of Museums www.aam-us.org	American Association for State and Local History www.aash.org	American Alliance of Museums www.aam-us.org	Foundation of the American Institute for Conservation of Historic and Artistic Works: http://www.conservation-us.org/	American Alliance of Museums www.aam-us.org	American Alliance of Museums www.aam-us.org

The Continuum of Excellence

Supporting and celebrating your museum's commitment to standards

